CASE STUDY

Take the Jacobs family for instance. Harold and Beth live in Devon and want to stay in touch with their son Peter in Canada and Beth's sister Ruth who lives in Scotland.

"We'd tried other services, but found they just couldn't match the value of Tesco on national and international calls," said Harold.

"It was so easy to set up and before we knew it we were making all our calls via the internet. And, because we chose the Tesco internet phone adapter, we can use our landline phone for internet calls whenever we like, which means being able to make free calls to our friends who are Tesco internet phone customers!"

Keep your hands free and the roads safer!

Brilliant Bluetooth™

We all know it's illegal and dangerous to use a hand-held mobile whilst driving, but did you know the penalties for doing so have gone up? Click here for the new regulations. Our advice is to switch your phone off before you start your journey.

At Tesco telecoms we have a wide selection of accessories, including Bluetooth™ hands-free headsets or car kits. Bluetooth™ is a wire-free technology that enables you to enjoy hands-free, two-way mobile phone conversations via either a headset or an in-car speaker. With Bluetooth™ you can also share images, music, data and even link up to play games on compatible devices.

The headsets are designed to fit discreetly in your ear and speakers can easily be attached to your car's dashtop. Both give you the freedom to speak and listen to all your mobile phone calls without having to hold your mobile handset.

Remember to check that your phone has Bluetooth™ capability before selecting a compatible headset or car-kit from our great selection at Tesco direct.
